

As a former Flight Attendant, and now a passenger, I believe that allowing cell phones to be used inflight would be a violation of other passengers right to peace and quiet. I also think that safety concerns should be explored further.